daughter of late Henry R. Post, audder First month, 14th, 1917. Funeral servi-at her late residence on Fourth day, the 17th, at 11 a. m. Train leaves Pennsylvania Station 10 a. m.; returning train leaves Westbury 1:04 p. m. Interment at convenience of family. Philadelphia pa-

The Conning Tower

"You are fresh, Farmer Lawson," the Henry said, And your language is dismal and blue! When the good Ship-of-State's going down by the head,

In my youth I raised onions," the Farmer replied.

Name us names, name us names!" cried the Henry, "Eschew

They're all very well in their way, but come through "Naming names is a gift," quoth T. L. in a flash, "For which I have oft rendered thanks.

And so-merely pausing to state you're a Dash And your colleagues are Blankety-blanks-

And wish to repeat on a fluke,

There's the Williamgibbsmcadoo-Gibboney-Fisk, And the Tumnity-Barneybaruch!"

May 1, 1898. What we remember is the bulletin, sent by Edward W. Harden, in front of the Chicago Tribune office. We saw it on the way home from the Grand Opera House, where "A Milk White Flag" was playing. And what we remember about the performance is that during it-or maybe between acts-Ethel Levey-Ethelia she was called in those days-sang a few coon songs. Ethelia Levey! Annie Oakley! . . . And how boring we consider the Old Gentlemen who talk of Jenny Lind, and Patti, and J. W. Kelly!

"Thaw is yet unable to talk intelligibly," the Sun's correspondent, who has the idea that white paper costs nothing, wires.

Well, you could doll up like tribune.

Wotinell's a tribune?

"He's a guy hoofs it around after a king, some'n lik- page, or a,

Eston and Eye-sock-er-hs. You could call a dame Frances and ast her

'Nen I could go up to some guy an' say 'What's your name?' said

You mean 'Who are you' said Cyril. You wanter get them deetails Sure. I bet I make a hit in 'at rig."

Sure. I het nobody else won't think of goin' like 'at."

deprayed as our relatives believe us to be." It is a better world, imperfect as it is, than it was five years ago; and twenty years from now it will be a lot better than it is to-day

And, Distributing the Floral Bonuses, it should not be forgotten that one of the strongest forces for making the world more candid and less hypocritical is Old Man Ad

. . Quand Vous Serez Bien Vieille"-Ronsard

In years to come, when thou art old and gray, And time has marred thy features' comely line,

Thou mayst at eve turn o'er these words of mine,

And to thy servitor perchance wilt say:

When life was young and all the world was gay, To honor me a poet did design

And thou wilt muse on joys long passed away.

I shall be dreamless dust, nor can thy wiles The least avail to reach me where I lie, Unmindful of thee and thy lonely fate.

No careless laughter nor capricious smiles Can longer move me; and a bitter cry Will shake thy spirit-but, alas, too late!

It should arouse the cupidity, at least, of readers to learn that $1000 has been bid for the manuscript of Eugene Field's "Little Boy Blue." The money will go to war relief. And yet, since we offered, more than a year ago, to sell the manuscript of any piece appearing in The Tower,-the money to go to any cause the purthaser might name,-we have received only one bid-a bid for the manuscript of Sarah N. Cleghorn's "The Poltroon." The offer still

"Mr. Gibson does no work except writing poetry," says the Times interviewer, "if indeed writing poetry may be called work." From first hand we are not fortunate enough to be able to speak, but all the poets we know don't consider it work. Versifying is work, but nobody versifies any more.

The Chestnut Street (Philadelphia) Business Men's Association will have a vaudeville social next Tuesday night, which anhouncement may not interest you. "There will be only one speaker," says the invitation, "Mr. Bartley J. Doyle. After him, the real

The Eugenics of the Film, from the programme of the Keeney Theatre, Newark: "Special Performance Saturday Morning for the Children of Mary Pickford and Charlie Chaplin in a Chaplin

Before this the witness had flew into a passion . . . -Syracuse Post Standard.

Everybody knows "had flewn" is meant.

Add Precious Stones of Poesy

(From the Jersey Journal)

To my loyal patrons, each and every one,
My heartfelt thanks I most sincerely extend,
And now that the Christmas rush is gone
If a complaint exists I will adjust you may depend.

You will allow that expert service I did supply, But the patrons they were many in my store; ian is only human when so many come to buy, But remember every purchase is warranted by Wigder.

That every one was satisfied I have no fear;
I will see you in the future, as in days of yore,
To wish you a Prosperous and Happy New Year
Is a joy for Bayonne's Leading Jeweler, Isaac Wigdor.

New York's new convention hall will seat 38,000, the advance notices say. Well, the day they hold the first convention of Those Who Have Grown Wealthy from the Thaw Fortune-Doctors, Witbesses as to Sanity, Nurses, Asylum "Guards," Lawyers, De-

ROYAL PORTRAITS BY VAN DYCK HERE

The Earl of Denbigh's Famous Group Comes to America

A MASTER OF COURTLY ART

Forthcoming Sales of Oriental Objects and Modern Paintings

BY ROYAL CORTISSOZ

The five Van Dycks which for generations conferred a distinction of their own upon Newnham Paddox, the home of the Earl of Denbigh, in Leices- NICOLA THOMAS tershire, may now be seen at the gallery of Lewis and Simmons in New York. They make an exhibition of unusual interest, having a dual value. These portraits possess, in the first place, the charm of so many souvenirs of the period of the Stuarts, a period of remantic grace if ever there was one. The observer could not but delight in them, considering them mere-ly as portraits. But they have further, for the student of painting, the signiffor the student of painting, the significance of a great tradition. Tradition, to be sure, is nowadays a little out of fashion. Yet for that very reason a master tending to revive its influence is only the more welcome. It would be a good thing if whole squadrens of American portrait painters could be persuaded to visit this show and to Think over its lessons, though we would not be too optimistic as to the result. Has not a superb version of one of these portraits, the full length of Lames Stuart Duke of Rich. of one of these portraits, the full length of "James Stuart, Duke of Rich-mond and Lenox," been hanging for years in the Marquand collection at the Metropolitan Museum? And we have seen mighty few signs of its mak-ing over American portraiture.

The explanation is prefere simple

The explanation is, perhaps, simple enough. A secret like Van Dyck's is doubtless incommunicable. Nevertheless he well illustrates the balance that can be a secret before the communicable. that can be struck between the things that are inborn and the things that can be taught. He was, to begin with, as much a devotee of the brush, pure as much a devotee of the brash, parand simple, as any modern technician.
Observe the manipulation of pigment in the "Portrait of a Lady," the full, rich impression of a comely be-ruffed figure, seated in a high backed chair after the immemorial custom of Flemman and present the seated in the contract of the contract figure, seated in a high backed chair after the immemorial custom of Flem ish portraiture. There you have unmistakably, the pupil of Rubens the virtueso, modelling the face and hands, painting the sitter's handsome costome, with the gusto that seems to have developed in the Low Countries with a special warmth and robustness, with a special warmth and robustness, where the same skill is exercised but with infinitely greater delicacy. There was nothing that Van Dyck did not was nothing that Van Dyck did not was prepared before this cellist who was heard here before this season, gave another programme which included his own D minor Concerto, the Grieg Sonata in A minor and a number of shorter pieces. Mr. Sandby repeated the excellent impression he made at his former appearance. He is no admirable musician, who plays with great vigor and dash, and yet who never oversteps the bounds of good never oversteps the same with the good had not have appeared before us this season. have developed in the Low Countries with a special warmth and robustness. Observe, too, the draperies in the small profile of "Queen Henrietta Maria," where the same skill is exercised but with infinitely greater delicacy. There was nothing that Van Dyck did not know about "art for art's sake," the know about "art for art's sake," the solving of problems through sheer manual dexterity. But this was only the beginning of his work. He used the facility the gods gave him. The rest save for one priceless element to which we shall return was all dis-to which we shall return—was all discipline.

It is enchanting to note his fidelity to a certain standard through the quite varied motives of these portraits. In the full length of the Duke he is all for courtly elegance, touched with the grace of sentiment supplied by the sitter's hound. In that of "The Duchess of Richmond and Her Dwarf, Mrs. Gibson," he employs a lighter touch in the design, giving it more case, more gayety. The portrait of a nameless lady, the sitter with the ruff, is essentially simple in mood. The King and Queen, Charles and Henrietta Maria, he paints with precisely the servee dignity befitting their exalted state. But in them all he is exquisitely careful as to the placing of nis figure, impeccable in drawing, the colorist who it would be grotesque to ask the American portrait painter to try to borrow a formula from Van Dyck, to emulate his generally formal, immobile type of composition, his restrained key of color. To do that—even if it were possible—would be to seek an effect hardly congruous with modern life. On the other hand, he could surely suffer no harm from submission to the classical spirit in this painter, the spirit of the conditional school, in 1817, and seven years later was removed to Wilbraham, Mass. It continued as a co-educational school until 1911, when its dorrs were closed both to boys and girls, and opened a year later as Wilbraham Academy, a school for boys exclusively. The new school has made ance of Head Master Gaylord W. Douglass. spirit in this painter, the spirit of dependence upon the fundamental laws of art. One reason why these portraits of art. One reason way these portraits are so beautiful is that they are so magnificently right. The principles guiding a whole school were not manacles to Van Dyck. He recognized in them the best supports for his freedom. The late Otto H. Bacher was long favorably known as an etcher. The compared and Whistler in

The late Otto H. Bacher. The com-favorably known as an etcher. The com-panion of Duveneck and Whistler in Venice, he formed his art under their influences, and especially under that of the latter. Some of his plates are to the latter. Some of his plates are to the latter. Some of his plates are to this day prized by collectors as akin to Whistler's own. As a painter Bacher was less successful, but produced work of some interest. Examples of it may be seen at the Walpole Galleries, where about fifty of his canvases are to be sold at auction on the evening of January 23. They show an odd development. In his earlier period, when he was painting pictures like his "Ellas Hotel, Cross Roads, Buckeye State," he practised a kind of prosaic realism, possessing scarce a hint of artistic quality. Later, and especially in Venice, more picturesque themes appear to have Childe Hassam. At the Anderson Galleries Oriental At the Anderson Galleries Oriental art prevails just now. There are two collections. One, sent by an unnamed gentleman long resident in China, contains a few good paintings and some excellent old pottery. This will be sold on the afternoons of January 22 and 23. The other, belonging to Dr. Arnold Genthe, is composed of 400 Japanese color prints. Haronobu, Hiroshige and Hokusai are finely rep-

FOUR WEDDINGS

Draper Ceremony Are

Miss Helen H. Draper, who is to be married to Walbridge S. Taft, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Waters Taft, on Saturday, February 10, in Boston, will Rheingold," Thursday afternoon, Feb-

Ursula Fairfax Harrison, of Warrenton, Penn.
William Howard Taft, 2d, will be his brother's best man, and the ushers will be J. Watson Webb, Lee J. Perrin. Arthur P. McKinstry, Theodore P. Irixon, William J. Sturgis, Angier B. Iruke, Reese D. Alsop, all of New York, snd Eben S. Draper, of Boston.
The ceremony will be followed by a large reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Draper, 297 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston.

and Mrs. John Vernon Bouvier, Jr., today in St. Patrick's Cathedral, gave his farewell bachelor dinner last night at the Hotel Vanderbilt. His guests included Colonel Francis G. Caffey, of Washington; Louis S. Burdette, Henry
G. Seibels, of Brmingham, Ala.; Thomas
Evans, of Philadelphia; Rutger Jervey,
John Vernon Bouvier, 3d, and W. Sercent, Bauvier, The ceremony will be geant Bouvier. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Father Martin, and a reception will follow at the St.

Miss Doris Fletcher Ryer, who is to be married to Stanhope Wood Nixon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Nixon, on January 23 in the Church of the Heavenly Rest, will have Miss Phyllis de Young for her maid of honor. Her other attendants will be Miss Ray Slater, Miss Mary Moreland, Miss Frances Moor, Miss Elizabeth S. Sanda, Miss Pauline Disston and Miss Helen Flake. Walbridge S. Taft will be Mr. Nixon's best man, and the ushers will include Harvey S. Ladew, A. Wright Lancashire, H. Rogers Benjamin, Hugh D. Cotton, Esmond O. O'Brien and Patrick Calhoun.

rick Calhoun.

The bride will be given away by Gov-

Miss Mercedes de Zaldo will be married to Henry Goode, of Manches-ter, England, on February 6 in the apartment of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick de Zaldo, 410 Park Avenue. Miss de Zaldo is a sister of Mrs. Ricardo M. de Acosta.

Mrs. Oliver Gould Jennings will give ner this evening at her house, 882

Mrs. Samuel Wood Thurber, of 104 East Thirty-ninth Street, will give a dinner and theatre party this evening for her daughter, Miss Evelyn Thur-

MISS M. K. STRAUS A BRIDE

peccable in drawing, the colorist who is also the man of taste. The final impression one receives is that of consummate polish, of high bred conscience, of the artist subordinating his personality, as a matter of course, to this matter," declared the Rev. William T. Manning, of Trinity Church, yesterday in discussing the plan for a great national protest against the deportation of Belgians. The plan is fathered by the Churchman's Association and calls for action on the part of labor organizations, churches and lodges on Washington's Birthday.

URGES PLEA FOR BELGIANS Dr. Manning Bids Workingmen Join

"This is a great opportunity for workingmen," continued the rector of Trinity. "In the light of this protest America cannot keep silent and be the America of our forefathers. We cannot stand silent in the presence of a great wrong without making ourselves, in a sense, sharers in that wrong.

"For the sake of Belgium and for the sake of our own moral life we must protest this German act. It isn't as though there was any doubt of the facts. No one can plead that it isn't so, for we have superabundant evidence in detail. The very excuses offered by Germany are explicit admissions of equilt."

Noted Engineer Was Superintendent of

Motive Power for Interborough

Henry Gordon Stott, superintendent f motive power for the Interborough of motive power for the Interborough Rapid Transit Company since 1901, died yesterday at his home in New Rochelle. His death was due to heart disease. Mr. Stott was born in the Orkney Islanos, Scotland, in 1866. His early education was imparted by his father, the Rev. David Stott, and later he at-tended the public schools, graduating in 1885 from the Glasgow and West of Scotland Technical College, where he and electricity.

Mr. Stott was a member of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, of which he was president in 1907 and 1908, the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, the New York Electrical Society, the American Society of Civil Engineers, the Engineers' Club and the Wykagyl Country Club. He was also a thirty-second degree Mason.

Mr. Stott is survived by his wife, who was Miss Anna Mitchell, of Brooklyn, and a son and a daughter.

Funeral services wall be held at his residence this evening.

TO REVIVE "FIGARO"

Metropolitan Announces Opera Plans for Immediate Future Mozart's "Le Nozze di Figaro" will be Magie, William J Miles, Elsie E. Mossman, N. A. revived next Wednesday evening. The cast is:

Il Conte, Adamo Didur; la Contessa, Margaret Matzenauer; Figaro, Giuseppe di Luca; Suzanna, Frieda Hempel; Barbarina, Odette Le Fontenay; Cherubino, Geraldine Farrar; Bartolo, Pompilio Malatesta; Marcelina, Kathleen Howard; Don Basilio, Albert Reiss; Antonio, Robert Leonhardt; Don Curzio, Max Bloch. Conductor, Artur Bodanzky. The other operas next week will be:

"Lohengrin," Monday evening; "Tristan und Isolde," Thursday; "Marta," Friday; "Madama Butterfly" at the Saturday matinee, and "Aida" at popular prices on Saturday evening, with Mme. Muzio for the first time in the title role.

At next Sunday night's concert shase Victoria Boshko, a young Russian pian-ist, will play. Mme. Marie Rappold and Messrs. Fernando Carpi and Leon Roth-ier will sing. The orchestra will be under the direction of Adolph Roth-

DIES AT BORDER

Commander of 74th Regiment Stricken Suddenly; Noted as "Buff" commanding the 74th New York Infantry, died of cerebral hemorrhage Monday night at McAllen, Tex. His death came suddenly, as he had seemed to New York on a brief furlough, but his wide knowledge of Guard affairs, gained from forty years' service, made his presence in Texas invaluable, and he returned as soon as his health per-eighth Street.

Accompanied by Major Walter E.
Montgomery, surgeon of the 74th, Colonel Thurston's body will arrive in New York either Friday or Saturday of this week. Plans are being made for a military funeral, in which battalions from various New York regiments will take part.

REDMOND'S DAUGHTER DIES

Mrs. Esther Redmond Power Succumbs in Hospital After Short Illness

days. Redmond met Dr. Power in 1904 when she was accompanying her father on a lecture tour of America. A correspondence of four years was followed by their marriage in London in 1908. Immediately after the wedding Dr. and Mrs. Power came at once DR. ROBERT H. HERKIMER

Former Brooklyn Medical Inspector

Was Pneumonia Victim

in 1892. Since then he had practised in Brooklyn. For twelve years he was chief medical inspector of the Brook-lyn Board of Health, retiring in 1909. His wife, daughter, mother and brother survive him.

MRS. D. W. BARKER DEAD

last night. Forty-eight hours before she was to have been reelected director of the organization which had served for many years. Mrs. Barker died on Monday morning at her home, at 87 Lafayette Avenue, Brooklyn. She had been ill with pneumonia. Mrs. Barker, since 1912, had beer leader of the Tenth Assembly District 1915 campaign she spoke constantly at the street meetings.

IMPORTANT

Engagement. Marriage. Birth, Memorlam and Death Notices may telephoned to The Tribune any ti up to midnight for insertion in next day's paper. Just call Beekman 3000 and read the notice as you wish it inserted. Bill for same will be mailed to you later. The notice will reach over 100,000 readers daily.

DEATHS

Grant, Edwina C Grant, Marguerite G. Gray, Robert P. Gumbs, Edward.

Jacobi, Carrie.

Power, Eather M. R.

Manhattan

BENNETT- At the residence of her parents 31 West 12th st., on Sunday, January 14, 1917, Elizabeth, daughter of Harold H. and Susan B. Pennett. BYRNS-On Monday, January 15.

residence, 210 East 72d st., Teresa A., be-loved wife of John Byrns. Notice of fu-neral hereafter. Please omit flowers. CASSIDY—On January 14, 1917, James Casnative of Siane, County Moath, Ireland, and uncle of Rev. A. L. Clark and Rev. J. J. Clark and father of John and Jane Cassidy and brother of Thomas and Michael Cassidy. Funeral from his late residence, 95 Perry st., Wednesday, Janu-ary 17, at 9:30 a. m.: thence to St. Jo-seph's Church, where a solemn requiem seph's Church, where a solemn requiem mass will be celebrated.

CHILDS—January 16, 1917, Sarah C. Childs, aged 83 years. Funeral services. Methodist Episcopal Church Home, 92d at. and Amsterdam av., Thursday morning, 10 o'clock. Members of Bedford Street Methodist Episcopai Church invited.

las av.

FELDMAN—Mrs. Rose, January 15, aged 60.

Funeral Friday morning, 156 East 108th st.GOODHUE—Saturday, January 13, at her residence, 189 Madison av., this city, Sarah
C. Goodhue, widow of Charles Clarkson Goodhue, in her 89th year. Funeral services at All Souls Church, corner Fourth av. and 20th st., on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. Kindly omit flowers. Boston papers please copy.

this city, on the 16th inst., Thomas Gordon, formerly president of the Thomas Gordon Malting Company, in the 74th year of his at 10 o'clock. Interment at Mount Rope Cemetery, Long Island.

MOSSMAN—On January 15, 1917, Dr. N. A. Mossman, in his 79th year. Services at The Funeral Church, Broadway, 66th and 67th sta., Campbell Building, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

O'BRIEN—At her residence, 514 West 142d

st. Eileen, in her 18th year, daughter of William and Mary O'Brien. Funeral ser-vices at The Church of Our Lady of Lourdes, 14lld st., and Convent av., on Wednesday, January 17, at 10 a. m. ORTH—Adolph, 311 East 84th st., city, Janu-

P. Funeral from residence of Mr. P. er. 137 West 73d st. Mass at Church Blessed Sacrament at 10 a. m. Please

Bronx

Brooklyn

CHISHOLM-On Monday, January 15, in his 78th year, Kenneth Chisholm, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Dudley Bouck, 304 Grand av., Brooklyn. Funeral private.

DARROW—Clarence L., died January 14, 1917. Funeral services at his late residence, 1930 Bedford av., Brooklyn, Wednesday, January 17, 2:30 p. m. FROEB!G—Bernhard, 288 Himrod st., Brook-lyn, January 15, 1917, aged 71. Funeral from St. Peter's Reformed Church. from St. Peter's Reformed Church.

GUMBS-On Monday, January 15, 1917, Edward Cumbs, in his 91st year. Puneral service will be held at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Julia Forster, 719 Monroe st. Brooklyn, on Wednesday at 5 p. m. Jersey City papers please copy.
SEITZ-Bernhard Frederick, 36 Arion Piace.

Ross, in his 55th year. Services will b held at his late residence, 336 East 29th at. Flatbush, Brooklyn, on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. ZABRISKIE—Jessie, on Tuesday, January ABRISKIE—Jessie, on lussday, January 16. Funeral services at the residence of her sister, Mrs. Hubert S. Wynkoop, 1574 50th st. Brooklyn, on Wednesday evening, January 17, at 8 o'clock. Interment pri-vate, at Woodlawn Cemetery.

ter of the late Thomas and Elizabeth Bil-lington, at 151 York ave., New Brighton.

240 Broadway, West New Brighton, Staten Island, Wilmoth J. Birmingham, wife of Thomas J. Birmingham and sister of the late Joseph B. Dean. Funeral notice later. Chicago papers please copy.

Long Island

BURDEN Mrs. Lavinia A., 408 Vernon av., Long Island City, January 16, 1917, aged 82. Funeral from Van Alst Avenue

Queens

COHEN-Lillian, beloved wife of Jacob 5, and mother of Godfrey, passed away in her 35th year. Funeral services at her late residence, 10th st., 1st av., College Point, Thursday, at 2:30 p. m. Services will be held by Dr. Krauskarph, Relatives and burgh N. Y., Saturday afternoon, January 13, 1917, Michael Hayes. Relativee and friends are invited to attend the funeral at the above address Wednesday, January 17, 1917, at 9 a. m.; thence to the Church of St. Patrick, where a solemn mass of re-quiem will be offered for the happy repose of his soul. Kindly omit flowers. Inter-ment in the Hayes plot at St. Patrick's Cemetery.

HICKEY—At Elmhurst, N. Y., on January 14, 1917, Michael A., beloved husband of Marie A. Hickey and father of George F. and Mary Hickey. Funeral from his late residence, 7 20th st., Elmhurst, on Thurs-

MeEKS—Florence L., daughter of William H. and Lydia E. Weeks, on January 15, 1917. Services Wednesday, 8:30 p. m., at the house, 380 Hawthorne av., Yonkers. Interment at the convenience of the fam-Malting Company, in the 74th year of age. Funeral private.

HARRIS—Carrie Harris (nee Marx), beloved mother of Herbert, Bosalind and Etta Eckstein, sister of the members of the Marx Fraternity, on January 15, 1917. Honoral services on Wednesday, January 17, 1917, at 10 o'clock, at Martin Pick's chapel, 239 Lenox av., corner 122d st. hoboken, on Wednesday, January 17, at 8 a.m.; thence to Our Lady of Grace Church, where a mass of requiem will be cele-

Funeral services at the Frank E. Campbell funeral services, Broadway and 65th st., Wednesday, January 17, at 10 a. m. St. Louis papers please copy.

JACOH Carrie (nee Regensburg), beloved wife of Samuel M. and mother of Jeannette Heitler and Florence Freedman. Funeral services will be heid at No. 14 East 32th st., Wednesday morning, January 17, at 10 celeok. Interment at Mount Hone. Funeral services private.

Funeral services private.

COHEN—On Monday, January 15, 1217, Benjamin, beloved son of Annie and Mar Cohen, aged 25 years. Relatives and friends, also Ke Nue Tribe, No. 285, Improved Order of Red Men, are respectfully

New Jersey, at his home, Elizabeth, N. J., on Monday, January 15, 1917, in the Söth year of his age. Funeral services at Westminster Church on Wednesday, Janu-

SAYERS -On Monday, January 15, 1917, at his residence, 197 Fairview av., Jersey City, Samuel Baile Sayers. Funeral services Wednesday evening, January 17. Interment

Other States

EBLEY-Harry F., at Colorado Springs, Col.

11 a. m. Interment Rosedale Cemetery Orange, N. J., Wednesday, January 17. SEYMOUR-Norman, at St. Petersburg, Fla. Thursday, January 11, 1917. Funeral at the Nepperhan Avenue Baptist Church. Yonkers, N. Y., on Thursday, January 18, 1917, at 8:30 o'clock p. m. Relatives and

In Memoriam

CEMETERIES

St. By Harlem Train and by Troller, a of small size for safe. Office 20 East 23d St., N. T.

SALE NOW ON

Opposite St. Thomas's Church

resented, and many other members of the school appear. Some beautiful impressions are shown, along with others not so good. The catalogue is uncommonly fair and useful. This collection will be sold on the evenings of January 22 and 23.

The American Art Association announces an exhibition, to open on January 25, of engravings and etchings of all schools, with modern mezzotints printed in colors. About five hundred prints are catalogued, from three different collections. They be sold toward the end of the

Mr. A. Walkowitz is showing at the Photo-Secessien gallery a collection of water colors painted at Provincetown and Lake George. They indicate an advance, inasmuch as they disclose a certain delicate feeling for color. In the matter of form Mr. Walkowitz is still entangled in modernist theory, and apart from one or two landscapes which suggest a rough approximation to the thing seen he leaves his subject obscure. A welter of color is all that meets the eye. It doubtless possesses an esoteric mean. doubtless possesses an esoteric mean-ing. As a pictorial communication it still rests in the mysterious limbo of the modernism aforesaid.

AND JEAN VERD IN JOINT RECITAL

Adele Margulies Trio Gives Concert in Evening at Aeolian Hall

cate things in music than for the broad and vigorous. Miss Thomas's tone was not particularly large, but it was warm, her intonation was accurate, and both she and Mr. Verd displayed an admirable sense of rhythm.
A word of praise, too, should be given the pianist for his accurate adjustment of dynamics.

ment of dynamics.

Their programme was unhackneyed and tended to show them off at their best. There were Emile Bernard's Suite for piane and violin and the Cesar Franck Sonata, while M. Verd played a group of solos, consisting mostly of Debussy, and Miss Thomas selections by Paganini, Cui and Wieningwick!

There was another afternoon recital at Acolian Hall. Herman Sandby, a 'cellist who was heard here before this have appeared before us this season. He had a worthy coadjutor in Richard

The Adele Margulies Trio is ever night was no exception to the rule. Acolian Hall was well filled with an attentive and sympathetic gathering. There were three numbers on the programme—the Dyorak Dumky trio, Richard Stevens's sounds for 'cello and Elaborate plans are being made for the centenary celebration in June of this year at Wilbraham.

Among those who will be at the din-ner Friday are Head Master Douglass, George S. Coleman, J. H. Anderson, Kenneth Goode, Irving L. Camp, Lloyd M. Howell, Dr. Hampton P. Howell, J. A. Anderson, president of the Alum-ni Association, and Miss Caroline Eich-bauer.

ree admission to the American Museum of Natural History, Metropeditan Museum of Art New York Zoological Park, Van Cortland Park Museum and the Aquarium. Assortation of the Boot and Shoe Manufactures Assortation, Hotel Astor, 10 a. m.; distinct ecture by Dr. W. E. J. Kirk on "The For Value of Milk in Reducing the High Cost Living" at the meeting of the International Pure Milk and Food League, Hotel Majosti afternoon.

ENGAGE SOCIETY

have for her attendants Mrs. George H. Snowden, of Sewickley, Penn., a sister of the bridegroom; Miss Ray Slater, Miss Eleanor Sprague and Miss Ruth Cheney, of Boston, and Miss Utrania Feirfer M. H. Boston, and Miss

Ruth Cheney, of Boston, and Ruth Cheney, and Ursula Fairfax Harrison, of Warren

Phelan Beale, who is to marry Miss Edith Ewing Bouvier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Vernon Bouvier, jr., to-

Mrs. William M. V. Hoffman gives a dinner this evening at her house, West Fifty-first Street.

Is Married to Herbert Spencer Martin at Sherry's Miss Madeleine K. Straus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Straus, was in the Deportation Protest

"No man who has friends among the workingmen can doubt that they will do something to show their spirit in the Long Island Medical College in the Deportation Protest this matter," declared the Rev. William in

"For the sake of Belgium and for the

HENRY GORDON STOTT DEAD

Scotland Technical College, where he specialized in mechanical engineering and electricity.

Barrett, Mary.
Barrett, Mary.
Barrett, Mary.

day morning a tholomew's R. C. Church, Elmhurst, N. Y. Crawford, in her 85th year. Funeral services at the chapel of the Home, Amaterdam av. and 194th st., on Thursday, January 18, at 2 p. m. ELHOTT—Frances A., on Sunday, January 14, aged 76 years 2 months. Funeral services 8 p. m. Tuesday, January 16, at her late residence, 221 St. Nicholas av. Fulate residence, 221 St. Nicholas av. Fulate residence, Margaret Murray (née Roche), widow of Patrick Murray and sister of Mary Defendorf. Notice of funeral hereafter. - ROONEY—John J., on Monday, January 15, at his residence, Hastings-on-Hudson, in his 55th year. Funeral from late residence, Mounty Mounty 15, at his residence, Mounty Mounty 15, at his residence, Mounty Mounty 15, at his residence. Crawford, in her Sum vices at the chapel of the Herminian vices 8 p. m. Tuesday, January 16, at her late residence, 221 St. Nicholas av. Funeral 11 a. m. Wednesday, January 17.

ETTENSON—Moses, on January 16, 1917. beloved husband of Libby and loving father of Mrs. A. Jack Davidson, 92 St. Nicholas av.

ETTENSON—Moses, on January 16, 1917. beloved husband of Libby and loving father of Mrs. A. Jack Davidson, 92 St. Nicholas av.

STOTT—At his residence, Rochelle Heights. New Rochelle, N. Y., on January 15, 1917. Henry Gordon Stott, dearly beloved husband of Anna Mitchell Stott. Funeral services at late residence on Wednesday evening, January 17, at 8 o'clock. Kindly omly area.

and Issacher Lodge, No. 7, I, O. F. S. of I. ISRAEL-On January 15, 1917, at he at 10 o'clock. Interment at Mount Hope ary 13, aged 15. Funeral from Zion Lutheran Church, Rev. W. Popcke. POWER On January 15, Esther Mary Red-mond, beloved wife of William T. Power, M. D., and daughter of John E. Redmond, M. P. Francisco, and M. P. Francisco,

L. and Lillian Wooster, aged 22 years. Funeral strictly private. Kindly omit DOTY-On January 15, Eisse M. Doty, of Spuyten Duyvil, beloved wife of Melvin Spuyten Duyvil, beloved wife of Melvin Forrest Doty. Funeral services at Edge Hill chapel, Spuyten Duyvil, Thursday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. Interment private. Detroit, Hartford, New Haven, Coun.: Detroit, Hartford, New Haven, Conn., Coatesville, Penn., papers please copy.

GRAY—Robert Patterson, in his 79th year. Funeral services at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. George H. Griffin, 2872 Valentine av., Wednesday, January 17, at 8 p. m. Members of Chancellor Walworth, No. 271, F. and A. M., and Veterans' Association, 71st Regiment, invited to attend

Brooklyn, January 12, aged 82, Funeral from St. Peter's Reformed Church. SMITH-On Monday, January 15, Walter Francis Smith, beloved husband of Mabel

Richmond BILLINGTON-January 14, Eliza E., daugh-

Staten Island. Funeral service at Christ Church, Franklin av., New Brighton, Wednesday, January 17, at 1:39. Inter-ment Fountain Cemetery. BIRMINGHAM—Suddenly, on January 15, at Methodist Church.

GRANT—January 15, Edwina C. Grant, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robert F.
Hutcheson, Cedarhurst, L. I. Notice of fu-

BANKS—At Mount Kisco, N. Y., January 15, 1917, Jeremiah, in his 88th year. Funeral services at his late residence, Thursday, January 18, 2:30 p. m.

HAYES—At his home, 6 Grand st., New-

BRAEL—On January 15, 1917, at her home, 215 Audubon av., Amalia Israel (nee Deutsch), beloved wife of Jacob Israel. Puneral services at the Frank E. Campbell funeral parlors. Broadway and 56th st., Wednesday, January 17, at 10 a.m. St. Louis papers please copy.

Louis papers please copy.

GRANT-At Summit, New Jersey, day, January 14, 1917, Marquerite Ghia Grant, widow of Daniel Lewis Grant, in her 62d year. Funeral service at the Central Presbyterian Church, Summit, N. J., Wednesday, January 17, at 10:15

Cemetery.

MAGIE - William Jay, former Chancellor e

Westminster Church on Wednesday, January 17, 1917, at 3 o'clock p. m. It is requested that no flowers be sent.

MACINTOSH—At West Orange, N. J., on Monday, January 15, 1917, George Macintosh, beloved husband of Anna Lindsay, in his 74th year. Funeral service will be held from his home, 14 Lawrence av., on Wednesday evening, January 17, at 8 o'clock. Interment private.

MILES—At Montelair, N. J., Monday, January 15, 1917, Elsie E., widow of the late Rev. Edward C. Miles. Funeral service will be held from her home, 89 Valley Road, on Wednesday morning, January 17, at 10

on Wednesday morning, January 17, at 10

Thursday morning.

Friday, January 12, 1917. Interment at Lutheran Cemtery, L. I. GESNER—At Winchendon, Mass., January 14, 1917. Priscilla Gertrude Gesner, aged 78 years. Services at Congregational Church.

friends invited.

THE WOODLAWN CEMETERY,

Send for Catalogue

F. P. A.

ALICE IN CONGRESS

Why sit there abusing the crew?"

"And now the mere smell of a leek Not only impassions my practical side, But strengthens my voice when I speak."

These somersaults over a bluff,

With some triple-star, regular stuff!"

I proceed to remark, since you've taken the risk

Thoughts of Admiral Dewey shoot us back to the night of

The way some folks use up white paper-You'd think it grew on trees. The Hudson River Division Talkers "Gimme a hunch fer a costoom fer that maskrade nex' week." "'Y doncha go as a Towah contrib?"

"Yeah, 'Nen you could wear a diver's helmut fer the Connin' Towah "Well, see, a connin' towsh in the chimley, like on a subm'rine. The er's helmut gets in the ander water stuff." "Yeah, but I'll have to pull a line o' talk to go with it." "'At's easy. Call the fellers Archie an' Morrie an' Walter Quitcher Truetalk from "Looking Back from 50," by George Ade, in The American Magazine: "Let us not worry. It is a cleaner, bolder, more candid, less hypocritical world than it was in the days of the yappy seventies. The most popular occupation seems to be fighting some kind of disease. Every active man gives part of his time to outside work which is quite unselfish. Even while the world has gone mad over war, the desk in front of you is littered with appeals. Appeals for the children of the slums, for the freshar camps for women, for the Volunteers' dinner to the homeless, for the crippled babies, for the deserted girls, and so on and so on, this year the war orphans and the Belgians coming in with a flanking attack on the checkbook. The fact that these appeals are being made, and that you and I respond to them, as people have never got together before, ought to encourage us to believe that we are not as

These verses; then will droop those eyes of thine

WHAT IS GOING ON TO-DAY

deeting of the Rainy Day Club, Hotel Aste 2.00 p. m. Address by Famile M. dell at meeting to or ganife a mothers' birth control league it Brooklyn, 48 Andres Street, 2.00 p. m. Lecture by the Ber, Joseph H. McMahen or "Catholic Professioness of Billy Sunday" be fore the Catholic Library Association, Dei monteo's, 4 p. m.

Meeting and supper of the Northwestern Medical and Surgical Sockey, Hatel Asics, 9 p. m. Public lectured of the Board of Education, 8-15 m. Manhattari—Takir, The Land and the People—How They Are Governed, by A. Frankin Rosa, Ph. D. Public School 83, West Houston and Charkson Streets, "Southern California, the Land of Ramonna, by Willis G. Barnes, Public School 101, 111th Street, west of Lectington Asomic, "Colorado w. Switzerland," by Rudy S. Uzzeil, Gentral Jeolof, Institute, 125 Hass Highly effits Street, "Siegfried," by Miss Fearl Clastiand Wilson, Hunter College, Lecturgion Asomic and Sixty-eighth Street, "Hold Music," by Mrs. Helen O'Denneld, Institute, Hall, 218, East 19th Street, "Hold Music," by Mrs. Helen O'Denneld, Institute, Hall, 218, East 19th Street, "Asocolaton and Their Development," by E. Astrian von Muffling, New York Public Library, 306 West 145th Street, "Waffare by Astronocial May Lecture Hostinic, 22 Julie, 19th Astronocial May Church Hostinic, 23 Julie, 19th New York, Public Library, 19th Nicolaton, 19th Nicolaton,

Attendants for the Taft-Announced

tle role.
At next Sunday night's concert Miss

COL. THURSTON

Colonel Nathaniel Blunt Thurston, in excellent spirits while dining with in excellent spirits while dining with the officers of the 12th Regiment earlier GORDON—At the Post-Graduate Hospital, in in the evening.

During an illness last summer, while he was stationed at Pharr, Tex., Colonel Thurston was erroneously reported dead. While convalescing he returned he returned as soon as his health permitted.

Colonel Thurston was sixty-two years old. He enlisted in the 22d Regiment in 1877. His efficiency brought rapid advancement, and in 1886 he became captain of his company. Ten years later he was commissioned major, and in 1898 he was made lieutenant colonel, acting in that capacity through the Spanish-American War.
Shortly after being mustered out he was made chief ordnance officer of the state. He was an authority on small arms practice, and as captain of the New York Rifle Team won honors for the state in many national matches.
Next to his interest in the militia came Colonel Thurston's interest in the New York Fire Department. He was an enthusiastic "buff," and rarely missed attendance at a fire. In 1915 Commissioner Adamson appointed him honorary chief of a battalion.
Colonel Thurston is survived by his wife, who lives at 243 West Ninety-eighth Street.

Accompanied by Major Walter E.

Mrs. Esther Redmond Power, who

Dr. Robert Henry Herkimer, a descendant of General Nicholas Herkimer, who led the Americans in the battle of Oriskany, dled yesterday from penumonia at his home, 538 Fourth Street, Brooklyn. He was forty-seven years old, the son of Seneca

There was a black line through the name of Mrs. D. W. Barker on the ballot of the Woman Suffrage Party

Ebley, Harry F. Elliott, Frances A. Ettenson, Moses.

Sayers, Samuel B Seitz, Bernhard F Seymour, Norman Smith, Walter F. Stott, Henry G. Zabriskie, Jessi pers please copy.

New York

New Jersey

proved Order of Red Men, are respectfully invited to attend the funeral from his late residence, 27 Ocean av., Jersey City, on Wednesday, January 17, at 10 a.m. CORWIN—Fred Miller, husband of Ida Louise Boice, Tuesday, January 18, Fu-neral services at his late home, 696 Avenue C. Bayonne, N. J., Thursday, January 18, at 3:39 p. m. Carriages will meet trains leaving Liberty st. at 3 p. m. for 33d st. station. Interment at Greenport, Long Island, Friday.

ontifiewers.

SANDERS Early Tuesday morning, January 16, at his residence, 225 East 17th st., walter Sauders, of Warwickshire, England, Funeral private. It is requested that no flowers be sent. English papers please copy.

WOOSTER In New York City, on January 16, 1917, Edith Wooster, daughter of Philip

Winchendon, on Tuesday, January 16, at

DUTTON'S

681 FIFTH AVENUE

Some of 'em 'll have to stand.

science, of the artist subordinating his personality, as a matter of course, to the well established rules of the mathetic game. And, equally of course, his personality pushes its way through the fabric of what we must call, for want of a better phrase, academic finish. What would have constituted a manner, in the case of a lesser artist, constitutes with a man of genius like van Dyck the supreme accent of style. It came to him at his birth. But who shall say that it was not fostered in its growth by those ponderable qualities at which we have glanced it would be grotesque to ask the American portrait painter to try to borrow a formula from Van Dyck, to emulate his generally formal, immobile type of composition, his restrained key of ing scarce a hint of artistic quality. Later, and especially in Venice, more picturesque themes appear to have stimulated him to better, though not yet very impressive, workmanship. Then, in the American years of his life, he interested himself in problems of light, out of doors, and while his nudes painted at this time are more clever than they are lovely, his landscapes show real progress. The winter scenes particularly are full of atmosphere, skilfully and even subtly rendered. The "Afternoon Glow" is a charming fragment. Similarly persuasive are the "Chambers Woods from My Window." "The First Snow" and the "Winter Landscape." He was a sufficiently apt craftsman when he painted his "Calla Manzoni, Chioggia," back in the eighties. When he did the studies just cited he was a sensitive artist. There are some pictures by other men in the show which repay attention, notably a sparkling Venetian subject by the late Robert Blum and a water color by Childe Hassam.

Froebig, Bernhard. Gesner, Priscilla G. Goodhue, Sarah C. Gordon, Thomas.

neral later. POST-Mary M., of Westbury, Long Island, vited to attend funeral services at 10:30 a.m. at the Trinity Episcopal Church, 7th and Hudson sts. Interment Flower Hill

FINE SETS OF

IN MEMORIAM Died in Troy, N. Y., January 12, 1917 WILLIAM HENRY FREAR, MERCHANT Age 75 years
Funeral was held Sunday, January 14th
From the Second Presbyterian Church
Interment in the family plat
Oakwood Cemetery.

RARE VOLUMES